Certification; EB Docket No. 06-36

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On behalf of ADMA Telecom, Inc. ("ADMA") and pursuant to 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(e), attached please find ADMA's 2013 Annual Customer Proprietary Network Information Compliance Certification covering calendar year 2012.

Please contact the undersigned at (202) 342-8614 if you have any questions regarding this filing.

Respectfully Submitted,

Denise N. Smith

Counsel to ADMA Telecom, Inc.

ADMA TELECOM, INC.

ANNUAL 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(e) CPNI CERTIFICATION

EB DOCKET 06-36

Annual Section 64.2009(e) CPNI Certification for 2013 covering the prior calendar year 2012.

Name of Company: ADMA Telecom, Inc.

Form 499 Filer ID: 826102

Name of Signatory: Andres Proano

Title of Signatory: Chief Financial Officer

I, Andres Proano, certify that I am an officer of ADMA Telecom, Inc. ("ADMA"), and acting as an agent of ADMA, that I have personal knowledge that ADMA has established operating procedures that are adequate to ensure compliance with the Federal Communications Commission's ("Commission's" or "FCC's") Customer Proprietary Network Information ("CPNI") rules. See 47 C.F.R. § 64.2001 et seq.

Attached to this certification is an accompanying statement explaining how ADMA's procedures ensure ADMA is in compliance with the requirements set forth in sections 64.2001 et seq. of the Commission's rules. See 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(e).

ADMA has not taken any actions (i.e. instituted proceedings or filed petitions at either state commissions, the court system, or at the FCC) against data brokers during the above referenced certification period. ADMA has no information outside of Commission Docket No. 96-115, or that is not otherwise publicly available (e.g., through news media), regarding the processes pretexters are using to attempt to access CPNI. The steps that ADMA is taking to protect CPNI are described in the attached statement that summarizes ADMA's operating procedures for compliance with the Commission's CPNI rules.

ADMA has not received any customer complaints during the above referenced certification period concerning the unauthorized release of CPNI.

Dated: Z/12/13 Signed: Andres Proapo

Chief Financial Officer ADMA Telecom, Inc.

STATEMENT REGARDING OPERATING PROCEDURES IMPLEMENTING 47 C.F.R. SUBPART U GOVERNING USE OF CUSTOMER PROPRIETARY NETWORK INFORMATION (CPNI)

ADMA Telecom, Inc. ("ADMA") has established practices and procedures adequate to ensure compliance with Section 222 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Federal Communications Commission's ("Commission's" or "FCC's") rules pertaining to customer proprietary network information ("CPNI") set forth in sections 64.2001 – 64.2011 of the Commission's rules. This attachment summarizes those practices and procedures which are adequate to ensure compliance with the Commission's CPNI rules.

Safeguarding against pretexting

ADMA takes reasonable measures to discover and protect against attempts to gain unauthorized access to CPNI, including the authentication of customers prior to disclosing CPNI based on customer-initiated contacts. ADMA is committed to notify the FCC of any novel or new methods of pretexting it discovers and of any actions it takes against pretexters and data brokers.

Training and discipline

- ADMA trains its supervisory and non-supervisory personnel in an effort to ensure that its employees, in accordance with FCC regulations: (a) understand what CPNI is, (b) join in and carry-out ADMA's obligation to protect CPNI, (c) understand when they are and when they are not authorized to use or disclose CPNI, (d) obtain customers' informed consent as required with respect to its use for marketing purposes, and (e) keep records regarding receipt of such consent, customer complaints regarding CPNI and the use of CPNI for marketing campaigns.
- ADMA employees are required to review ADMA's CPNI practices and procedures and to acknowledge their comprehension thereof.
- ADMA has a disciplinary process in place for violation of the company's CPNI practices and procedures. The careless or intentional failure to comply with these practices and procedures may result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

ADMA's use of CPNI

- ADMA may use CPNI for the following purposes:
 - > To initiate, render, maintain, repair, bill and collect for services;
 - To protect its property rights; or to protect its subscribers or other carriers from fraudulent, abusive, or the unlawful use of, or subscription to, such services;
 - > To provide inbound telemarketing, referral or administrative services to the customer during a customer initiated call and with the customer's informed consent.
 - To market additional services to customers that are within the same categories of service to which the customer already subscribes:
 - > To market services formerly known as adjunct-to-basic services; and
 - > To market additional services to customers with the receipt of informed consent via the use of optin or out-out, as applicable.

- ADMA does not disclose or permit access to CPNI to track customers that call competing service providers.
- ADMA discloses and permits access to CPNI where required by law (e.g., under a lawfully issued subpoena).

Customer approval and informed consent

ADMA does not use CPNI for marketing purposes. ADMA also does not share, sell, lease, or otherwise provide CPNI to any of its affiliates, suppliers, vendors, or any third parties for any type of service for marketing purposes. If ADMA changes this policy, it will implement a system to obtain approval and informed consent from its customers prior to the use of CPNI for marketing purposes.
This system also will allow for the status of a customer's CPNI approval to be clearly established prior to the use of CPNI.

One time use

After authentication, ADMA may use oral notice to obtain limited, one-time approval for use of CPNI for the duration of a call. The contents of such notice will Section 64.2008(f) of the FCC's rules.

Additional safeguards

- All marketing campaigns must receive prior approval from a supervisor and must be conducted in accordance with this policy. ADMA maintains for at least one year records of all marketing campaigns.
- ADMA designates one or more officers, as an agent or agents of the company, to sign and file a CPNI compliance certificate on an annual basis. The certificate conforms to the requirements set forth in Section 64.2009(e) of the FCC's rules.
- For customer-initiated telephone inquiries regarding or requiring access to CPNI, ADMA will not disclose call detail information to a customer. ADMA only discloses call detail information by sending it to the customer's address of record, or by calling the customer at the telephone number of record.
- ADMA does not provide customers with online access to CPNI, nor does it have retail locations where the customer may request access to CPNI.
- Because ADMA exclusively sells prepaid calling cards, ADMA does not maintain billing addresses or customer account information such as customer name or passwords. Therefore, it is not possible to make certain account changes for which notification would be required under the FCC's rules.
- Within seven (7) days of a reasonable determination of a breach of CPNI, ADMA will notify the U.S. Secret Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the breach via the central reporting facility www.fcc.gov/eb/cpni. If they can be identified, customers will be notified after the seven (7) day period, unless the relevant investigatory party directs ADMA to delay notification, or ADMA and the investigatory party agree to an earlier notification. ADMA will maintain a record of all CPNI security breaches, including a description of the breach and the CPNI involved, along with notifications sent to law enforcement and affected customers (if they can be determined).
